GROWTH

In less than a year, Sneaker Fortress has achieved the incredible feat of becoming the number one sneaker news site in South Africa and one of the biggest sneaker sites in the world.

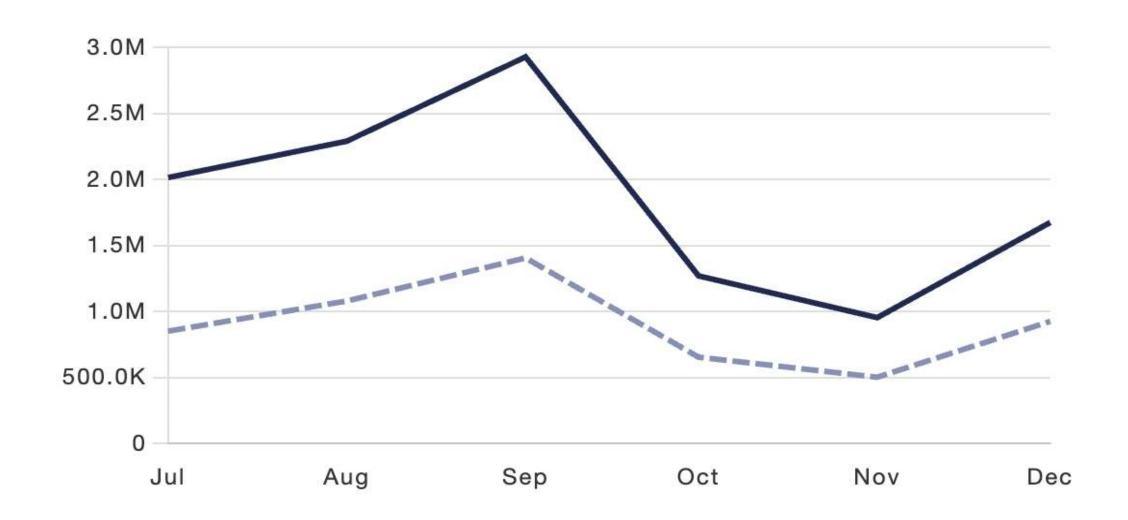

With over 1 million views per month on average, 3 000 000 in Sept 2023, it has quickly become the go-to destination for sneakerheads in the country and around the world.

The story of SneakerFortress.com begins with FortressofSolitude.co.za, a popular entertainment website in South Africa. While the site covered various topics such as movies, TV shows, and comics, it also had a dedicated section for sneakers. As the popularity of sneakers continued to grow in South Africa, the team at Fortress of Solitude saw an opportunity to spin off the sneaker section into a standalone website.

But launching a new website is only the first step. The team behind SneakerFortress.com knew that they needed to differentiate themselves from other sneaker news sites in order to stand out. They decided to focus on providing in-depth coverage of sneaker releases, with detailed information on pricing, availability, and where to buy.

They also recognized the importance of building a community around the site. They encouraged readers to engage with them on social media, and made sure to respond to comments and questions in a timely manner. This helped to build a loyal following, and encouraged readers to keep coming back for more.

Another key factor in Sneaker Fortress' success was their commitment to quality content. They employed a team of experienced writers who were passionate about sneakers, and who knew how to write engaging and informative articles. They also made sure to stay up-to-date with the latest trends and releases, and were quick to report on breaking news in the sneaker world.
